RE: Legal Names on Documents

ALL NAMES should be spelled out precisely as you intend them to appear in your legal documents. Making later changes to names that recur throughout legal documents is much more difficult than it might appear, causing a delay in finalizing your drafts.

In addition, we suggest (but do not insist) that you consider use of MIDDLE INITIALS rather than full middle names. Longer names can prove cumbersome in the future. Some people are surprised that the precise names shown in legal documents are required on bank and brokerage accounts, as well as tax returns, for years to come.

We request and appreciate your careful attention to these details.
